

The first part of the report is devoted to a general description of the system and its components. The second part describes the experimental work and the results obtained.

The third part discusses the theoretical aspects of the problem and compares the